MEDIA ALERT

Slate Information Marketing, Inc. Showcases Alien Works LTD
Alternative Energy and Satellite Antenna Technologies at 2007 St.
Louis Home and Garden Show

ALIEN WORKS LTD
Corporation

Slate Information Marketing, Inc., the Missouri distributor for Alien Works products, will be showcasing new solar and satellite antenna products at the 2007 St. Louis Home and Garden Show. Alien Works is a technology partner with NASA bringing new technology to market. Show attendees can stop by booth# 534 to meet with a representative of Alien Works and Slate Information Marketing, Inc.

Alien Works is taking applications for its growing network of dealers and distributors to offer state of the art alternative energy systems and satellite technology to the public. Energy products range from complete energy independence to smaller back-up systems. Satellite antenna technology offers a replacement for the large parabolic antenna with a smaller antenna that provides greater signal strength. See more about Alien Works at www.alienworksltd.com.
